Hence, the application is liable for rejection as per the terms & conditions of the advertisement.	I would like to clarify that the MS in Finance (Master of Science in Finance) and the MBA (Master of Business Administration) with a specialization in Finance are academically and professionally aligned. Both programs cover core financial subjects such as corporate finance, financial management, investment analysis, and capital markets. In many academic and professional institutions, especially when Finance is the major focus, these degrees are considered equivalent in preparing candidates for financial and managerial responsibilities. The job opportunity are often similar, which both degrees opening doors to roles in investment banking, financial analysis, wealth management, corporate finance, etc. Also, I bring 14 years of comprehensive experience across key areas of financial industry, including financial modelling, investment research, investment banking, equally research and financial planning and analysis. These roles are comparable in scope and responsibility of those who typically undertaken by individuals with an MBA (Finance) qualification. Hence, I respectfully request that my total industry experience and MS (Finance) qualification be considered on par with an MBA in Finance for eligibility purposes. Please consider my candidature for the selection process.
